Good prospects at attractive companies

The attractiveness of Hessen’s companies is partly what draws so many skilled workers to the region. The State of Hessen and its companies combine to create the conditions needed for an exciting and loveable region.

The State of Hessen and its companies combine to create the conditions needed for an exciting and loveable region.

Hessen’s companies contribute a great deal to the region’s high living standards and working conditions. They represent a diverse range of industries, an international focus, and reliable, secure and family-friendly working conditions. Large corporations, medium-sized companies, handicraft businesses and entrepreneurs complement and drive one another.

The regional government provides support with favourable conditions, such as by developing more childcare options, promoting family centres, and safeguarding work and health.

Our tip

Looking for a job?

Many German companies don’t just advertise their vacancies through official institutions; they also post their job adverts online.
